FILM SHOWS SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE

Startling Discovery Made When Pictures Are Developed by Police

BREMERTON MAN SEEN IN PHOTOS

SEATTLE, April 5 (AP).—A roll of undeveloped films, found in the modest Bremerton home of Eugene Chenevert, one of the six victims in the Bremerton slayings last week, Chief of Detectives Luke S. May announced tonight, has furnished authorities with a "startling new development" in the search for the killers.

The film carried two pictures of a man who, May said, has been "positively identified" by four persons as that of a Harry Kimble, a man of swarthy complexion who was seen in Bremerton as late as the previous Saturday before the Frank Pilder home yielded his ghastly secret last week.

On that occasion, May added, Kimble was seen dancing with Mrs. Frank Pilder, one of the two women victims, in an entertainment place.

The discovery of the film and its development, May said, was the work of John Martin, head of the fingerprinting and identification bureau of the Bremerton police department.

The disclosures, announced by May, led to an intensive investigation of the background and previous whereabouts last week of a man held in the Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, jail, who gave the name of Harry Kimble. He was arrested there on Tuesday, after authorities had reported themselves unable to verify his explanation of head wounds that led to his arrest.

STUDIES PRINTS

Fingerprints of Kimble, made by Coeur d'Alene authorities and forwarded to May yesterday, were still awaiting his further study and comparison with fingerprints obtained.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 5 (AP).—Two women were killed in a short-lived revolution of a group of military cadets here, today.

The cadets made a surprise attack on police stations, occupying them and firing at carabinieri from the windows of the buildings. For several hours a virtual battle raged in the streets.

General Jose Lanza, appointed chief of the La Paz garrison, visited the headquarters of the revolted cadets and talked them into a peaceful surrender.

Distinguished Visitor Sees Women's Work

—Photograph by Savannah.

HER Excellency the Countess of Beasborough graciously accepted an invitation of the Women's Workroom committee, and made an informal visit to the premises on Wednesday afternoon. She spent about half an hour chatting with the workers and members of a committee who were present to receive her, these being Mrs. Alan Morkill, the president, Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. C. Wayne, and Mrs. Alex Gillespie. Every department of the work was sympathetically inspected, and Her Excellency had a kindly word and smile for each one of the employees. In the above picture she is shown in the cutting-out room, those in the foreground, reading left to right, being Mrs. E. Thorne, Lady Beasborough, Mrs. Alan Morkill, Mrs. M. Sills and Mrs. Dodson.

Great Britain Unwilling to Commit Herself on Punitive Proposals

LONDON, April 5 (AP).—The stand the United States would take if an attempt were made to punish a European violator of a disarmament treaty was the concern today of British and League of Nations diplomats, who conferred with Norman H. Davis, United States disarmament delegate.

Before Great Britain is willing to commit herself on proposals for punitive military and economic action, she is interested in knowing if the United States would at least not interfere.

Any hope that a French demand that such guarantees will be universally acceptable, was regarded as futile in British quarters, but on the other hand it was not clear how sanctions could otherwise be applied.

MAKES OUTLOOK UNCERTAIN
The present lack of understanding between France and Britain on the nature of guarantees the Paris Government demands, was expected in both British and League quarters here to tie the hands of the World Disarmament Conference steering committee, when it meets in Geneva Thursday.

Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal and arms expert, will leave for Geneva on Sunday, a day before the anticipated receipt of another French note on the arms situation.

VANCOUVER, April 5 (CP).—Delegates to the British Columbia Teachers' Federation today wound up their fifteenth annual convention, here, with a resolution which, if acted upon by the Provincial Legislature, would make membership in the Federation compulsory for all teachers in the province.

The resolution, submitted by the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association, the Victoria and District Teachers' Association, and the High School Teachers' Association of the Lower Mainland, was carried unanimously.

It asked upon by the Legislature all teachers not members of the federation would be barred from teaching in elementary, junior high and senior schools in the province.

SAANICH YOUTH WINS BURSARY

Ralph G. D. Moore Will Conduct Research Work in Chemistry at McGill

Ralph G. D. Moore, of 3249 Quadra Street, Saanich, has been awarded a bursary of $450 by the National Research Council, with which to conduct research work in chemistry, according to word received from Ottawa yesterday.

Mr. Moore, who is now twenty-three years of age, was the only student of the University of British Columbia to receive an award from the council.

He was educated in the Cloverdale School, Saanich; Victoria High School and Victoria College, before attending the University of British Columbia, in Point Grey. He will do his research work at McGill University.

As a result of the post-graduate awards announced yesterday by the National Council, twenty-six students in various parts of the Dominion will be assisted in continuing their studies. The post-graduate awards comprise two fellowships of $500 each, six studentships of $600 each, and eighteen bursaries of $450 each.

HIGH STANDING
By winning a bursary, Mr. Moore maintained his high standing in studies that was a feature of his work in all classes. In 1932 he graduated from the University of British Columbia, with a B.A., and honors in chemistry. He also won honors in the Victoria College and Victoria High School.

Of the scholarship holders announced by the National Council, ten will study physics; eight will study physics; one, mathematical physics; one, physiology, and one, mechanical engineering.

Three of the students awarded scholarships did their undergraduate work at the University of Alberta; two each at the University of Saskatchewan and the University of Manitoba, and one at the University of British Columbia.

Finance Minister Urges Refunding As B.C. Necessity
Hon. John Hart Says Province Cannot Continue Under Present Load Without Assistance—Byron Johnson, M.P.P., Renews Trade Plan

DECLARATION that British Columbia was faced with an impossible position, with current revenues scarcely more than sufficient to meet its fixed charges, and leaving little to provide for essential services, was reiterated strongly, last evening, by Hon. John Hart, in the course of an address before the annual meeting of the Victoria Liberal Association.

The Minister of Finance urged refunding as the only solution of the difficulty, and said he believed that the necessity for a refunding scheme in Canada would shortly be recognized at Ottawa.

Mr. Hart repeated his budget statements to the Legislature, showing the Provincial debt to have been $166,998,598 when the present administration assumed office, or $7,497,138 more than had been at that time. The accumulated position now was that it would require $18,557,000 of borrowings to meet past commitments, including deficits, unfunded debt, and restoration of trust and semi-trust accounts to their proper level, without a cent for new purposes.

At the recent Dominion conference, the Province had put forward its claims in respect to better terms in the Confederation, to absorption of the P.C.E. Railway, needs as to unemployment relief, and his own plan, proposing refunding of approximately $125,000,000 of the British Columbia debt. The refunding proposal had been rejected, but he did not believe that would be the final answer.

Camp Three To Resume On Monday

COURTENAY, April 5. — Camp three of the Comox Logging Company will recommence operations on Monday morning, according to the management. All men employed within the camp closed last month will be taken on, if they so desire, it is said.

Hon. G. S. Pearson announces that a minimum wage scale for logging camps will be set by the end of the week. The scale will be retroactive to April 1 for the men of the Comox Logging Company.

At the close of morning and afternoon sittings of the new Industrial Relations Board yesterday, Hon. G. S. Pearson intimated that it was hoped that by the close of the hearings today the board would be in position to set a satisfactory minimum wage for both lumber and logging industries.

The board sat all day yesterday hearing delegations from both employers and employees in lumber camps; and will resume its deliberations today.

Under a new legislative set-up at the last session, the board has authority to set minimum wages for any industry or any part of an industry, can fix minimum working hours, and can also regulate general working conditions in relation to rates charged for board and respect to other matters.

F. Lumsden, S. Skinner and S. Houston, representing a central strike committee of the loggers at Vancouver, made representations to the board in the morning on behalf of the men. J. G. Robson, J. H. MacDonald, J. A. Humbird, M. A. Granger, T. H. Wilkinson and Hugh Dalton, representing lumber and logging operators, addressed the board in the afternoon sitting. Representatives of the operators declined to discuss their representations at this time.

Delegates from the strike committee defended the request of the men for a minimum wage of forty cents an hour, or $2.00 per day. They contended in a maximum charge for board of $1.10 a day; but cited other conditions in the camps, and the general spending up of output since 1928 as part of the reason for the move for higher minimum rates than tentatively outlined in earlier Provincial action.

WILL CONTINUE TODAY
The hearing was held in private. Hon. G. S. Pearson attending the proceedings. The board sat under the direction of Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, and was composed of the personnel announced earlier in the week. All members of the board were present.

While reserved in their attitude, both delegations expressed belief that a solution of present differences could be reached.

PREPARE FOR CONVENTIONS

Native Sons and Daughters of B.C. Gather for Sessions Today

Under the direction of Grand Factors J. O. Lee, of Murreyville, and Harold A. Beckwith, of Victoria, delegates to the annual conventions of the Native Sons and the Native Daughters of British Columbia will assemble today at 9:30 a.m. at the Empress Hotel, for the consideration of business affecting the organizations, which embrace between 1,800 and 2,000 members all over the province.

Business sessions will be of a private nature, open to accredited delegates only, and will continue all day today and the greater part of tomorrow. The Native Daughters are holding their meetings in the New Thought Hall, on Fort Street, while the Native Sons will gather at the K. K. P. Hall on Broad Street, near Pandora.

ARRANGE PROGRAMME

The Native Daughters have arranged an attractive programme of entertainment for the sessions today and tomorrow.

The first contingent of delegates from the various points of the mainland arrived in the Capital City yesterday afternoon, and in the evening members of the executive committee of the Native Daughters went into conference at the Empress Hotel to make final arrangements for the business sessions today.

Grand Factor J. O. Lee, of the Native Sons; Ray Mason, grand deputy for No. 2 Post, Vancouver, and J. P. Hampton, Bole, past grand factor, also of Vancouver, came over yesterday afternoon's boat and registered at the Empress Hotel.

It is estimated that thirty delegates from the six active posts of the Native Sons and about forty delegates from the Native Daughters will be in the city for the conventions, including the Grand Post officers. This number will be augmented by delegates from the Victoria posts.

OFFERS SUGGESTION

It was at this point Mr. Dougherty offered his suggestion. "I believe," he stated, "we are really the backbone of the mining industry, and it is our duty to see that our ranks would be likely to receive the co-operation of the Government, and we could then take a hand in getting rid of the 'wildcat' and the 'wildcat' at the same time, perhaps ridding ourselves of some regulations which are irksome without being of any material benefit to either the industry or the general public."

Job Lees Passes At the Jubilee

There passed away yesterday, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Job Lees, of Ruby Road, Esquimalt, aged eighty years. Born in Yorkshire, England, Mr. Lees had resided here for the past five years. He lived for some time in Medicine Hat, Alberta.

He is survived by his widow, and two sons, Rev. Mortimer Lees, Courtenay, and Harold Lees, Victoria.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at McCall Bros. Funeral Home, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. H. A. Warr will officiate. Interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

Reception Tonight

The executive of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club will hold a reception in their clubrooms this evening. The guest of honor will be Miss Lee, who has been giving a series of lectures in Victoria. There will be a bridge game for those who wish to play, from 8 to 10 p.m., and the reception will be held about 10 o'clock, after Miss Lee's final lecture, which she will give at the Empress Hotel. All members are cordially invited as guests of the executive.

On Monday evening the usual dinner meeting will be held at the Y.W.C.A. at 6:15 o'clock, the speaker to be Mr. Kyrle Sykes, headmaster of St. Michael's School for Boys, the subject to be "Impressions of a Recent Visit to England." On Monday, April 16, the club will be addressed by Mr. A. S. Averill on "The League of Nations."

2—Disapproval of a suitable French textbook by Hodgcock for junior high schools suggested by senior high schools for use in the Junior high grades.

3—Request to the Department of Education to eliminate such advanced grammar as may be thought advisable from the elementary school and to have it placed in the high school.

4—That federation fees be reduced until such time as salaries are again at normal.

REFRESHMENT TRAINING

The convention recommended that teachers who have not been employed in the profession for ten years be required to take some training in modern educational methods before being permitted to resume teaching.

Duncan Association asked that the federation make provision for the Department of Education to be permitted to take subjects of experience, extra-mural credits so obtained would apply towards the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

CONDUCT OF CHILDREN

The federation also decided to re-examine the British Columbia School Act on all points regarding responsibility for conduct of school children that devolves upon either teachers or school boards with a view to obtaining amendments to the act.

The federation expressed the opinion that the present system of re-estate taxation for purposes of social service is unsatisfactory and went on record as favoring appoint-

Fine Sport Programme Is Planned for May 24

Soccer, Rowing, Baseball, Outboard Motor Racing and Hockey Among Tentative Plans—Fireworks and Military Tattoo Proposed

Horse racing, motorcycle stunt thrills, fireworks, softball, baseball, soccer, rowing, outboard motor boat racing, street roller hockey, and a military tattoo and torchlight review, are among the many features tentatively planned for the celebration on May 24 by the Citizens' Committee, which met at the City Hall last night.

George Beck, chairman of the decoration committee, put forward the suggestion that the co-operation of the better class restaurants and the junior chapters of the I.O.D.E. be secured for a novel costume feature. His plan, he explained, was to have the restaurants serve a special English dinner on Victoria Day and have members of the I.O.D.E. make costumes of the Victorian period to be worn by the waitresses before the inner harbor.

P. E. George, heading the committee in charge of fireworks displays and the parade, declared that in view of the fact that almost 15,000 persons were estimated to have watched the fireworks display on the last May 24, it would be advisable to spend at least $500 for this purpose this year. His suggestion met with some opposition on the part of T. A. Creswell, who was of the opinion that these moneys could be better spent on something which would be of advantage to Victorians, since sums for the purchase of fireworks must go out of the city altogether. Mr. George, however, was supported by other committee members, and it was decided for the time being at least, that fireworks would definitely be an item on the holiday programme, and he held out the prospect of a torchlight review to be held in the inner harbor.

NEGOTIATE WITH I.O.D.E.

Speaking on the matter of parades, Mr. George reported that some progress had been made with the School Board and with the I.O.D.E. in an attempt to have the latter organization change their annual parade by the children to the Queen Victoria Memorial from the twenty-third to the twenty-fourth. It was the intention of the committee, he stated, if their negotiations were successful, to suggest that the parade of the school children and the laying of wreaths on the Queen's Memorial, be made the opening ceremony of the day.

W. H. KINSMAN IS RE-ELECTED

Former Alderman Returned as President of Victoria Liberal Association

W. H. Kinsman, former member of the City Council and candidate in the last Provincial election, was re-elected president of the Victoria Liberal Association, by acclamation, at a well-attended annual meeting, held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, last night.

The entire roster of officers was returned by acclamation. In addition to Mr. Kinsman, C. J. McDougall, first vice-president; Mrs. T. B. Vieth, second vice-president; Arthur H. Cox, secretary, and E. E. Heath, treasurer.

Mrs. Juliette de Blaquiere, Mrs. J. S. Akins, Carl W. Stocker and C. H. O'Halloran were elected delegates to the Provincial Executive.

Mr. Kinsman, in opening the meeting, made a plea to those present to have patience and give the government the time in which to do the work it had set out to accomplish.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS

Alan Chambers, who has been selected as Liberal candidate in the Nanaimo Federal riding, gave a short address, in which he presented the picture of what the Great War and the last three years of economic depression had done to under the motto of the Liberal party.

As a result of the influence of these two catastrophes, the older people were looking more and more to the young people to assume the responsibilities of state. Because of this, it was the duty of the Liberal party today to inspire the young to face not only their opportunities, but to assume duties and responsibilities that might otherwise not be theirs, with a desire to make Canada a country fit for men to live in.

Mr. Griffiths urged that the Government bring in a provisional first-quarter licence for motor cars, to permit farmers and others with cars to get them back on the road now. He urged attention to farm and other mortgages, saying that people should not continue to pay from 7 to 9 per cent. The Government had a mandate for action, and should take the bull by the horns and act, "to put heart into the home."

The unintentional pun caused a gale of laughter.

Following, J. B. Cira-thus said the Liberal Party would solve the problems of the province if given the support of the people. Wholehearted support had been needed for the prosecution of the Great War, and present conditions amounted to a war on a depression that had lasted now for four years. The Liberal Party had demonstrated that it was not afraid to tackle a big problem in a big way, he averred.

FINANCE MINISTER URGES REFUNDING

$125,000,000 of the debt on a thirty-year basis, omitting sinking funds for five years and picking them up by renewed payments later. Savings on an annual basis during each of the first five years would be in the neighborhood of $6,000,000, and for the remaining years, around the sum of $3,000,000 annually.

Current revenues anticipated in this year would be less than $20,000,000. Fixed charges on debt were practically $12,000,000, at $1,600,000. Other fixed charges included: Education, $3,347,000; hospitals and institutions, $2,442,000; old age pensions, $492,000; motor vehicle grants to municipalities, $550,000; and other items to a total that left only $721,000 for all other services, many of them indispensable.

ment to carry on in that condition," Mr. Hart declared. "That is why we suggested refunding. Why, it has been done in almost every other country; in Great Britain, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, I believe in the near future the Prime Minister of Canada will see the necessity, and will join with the provinces in carrying out a refunding scheme."

Refunding would be as much in the interest of the bondholders as of the taxpayers, Mr. Hart continued. If the Province were to default on its commitments, the value of its securities would immediately drop on the market, and these securities would become unsaleable. To that extent it would be a protection to the bondholders to see that the Province be permitted to get itself into a position where it could carry temporary pressure of the load, without any doubt as to ultimate recovery through the medium of the vast and untouched natural resources.

RELIEF OUTLAYS

Unemployment relief, under Dominion, Provincial and Municipal outlays within the province, had cost $23,974,848 since its inception a few years ago, and the condition had still to be faced. The only way of meeting relief costs at present was through borrowing. These problems, that existed, and would have to be dealt with as facts.

LOANS TO CITIES

The Department of Municipal Affairs was under wise leadership, and while monetary grants could not yet be restored, it was proposed to loan to municipalities their costs in relief, when funds were available. Amendments to the Revenue Act contemplated as a last resort, when the opportunity came. Bank powers had been sought, because unknown conditions would have to be met.

The Government had lowered taxation on smaller incomes, increased exemptions for single and married persons, and repealed the meal tax entirely. The loss in income tax changes would be $500,000 to the treasury yearly; but the necessity for $5,000,000 refunds had been done away with.

"SEE PATULLO ACT"

The Natural Products Marketing Act was in support of Federal legislation, not yet completed. It was desired to work fully in harmony with the Dominion on this matter. The S.P.A. had been criticized, but some would say the letters stood for normal delegation of power, such as any organization would hand to its executive, and no dictatorship was intended.

BYRON JOHNSON, M.P.

Byron Johnson, M.P., also received with enthusiasm, discussed opportunities for trade abroad, and reiterated what he had said previously in the Legislature in that regard. He appealed for consideration of a plan of sectional tariffs in Canada, whereby the four Western provinces would be permitted to trade on an even basis in world markets on reciprocal export-import quotas, at a fixed ratio, with duty remissions in respect to $1 of imports for $2 of exports to like markets.

Such trading, he said, could be carried out through a Provincial markets board, and would be preferable to the suggested plan now proposed at Ottawa where Western producers would be bonused. If the spread between home manufacture values in the East and tariff-valued domestic prices were taken into account, sufficient profits would accrue through the trade board plan to shift much of the burden of taxation from Dominion, Provincial and Municipal shoulders in respect to the West, he declared.

UNDER HANDICAP

Western Canada, Mr. Johnson averred, could not recover its prosperity as long as it was compelled to sell cheaply in world markets and buy dearly at home under restrictive and protective tariffs.

Mr. Johnson approved of the principle of a central bank in Canada, and declared the need for lower interest rates for business generally. His main appeal was for action to free the West from the necessity of paying tariff-created tributes to the East, of which $25,000,000 alone had been paid in respect to 65,000 cars on the roads of the province, irrespective of considerable sums on other goods of Canadian manufacture.

FINE IS IMPOSED

Douglas Miller, charged with driving a motorcycle to the common danger on March 30, when, according to the evidence of Police Officer Alexander Nicol, the accused swerved around on Yates Street for the purpose, Miller had, as he was picking up his hat that had fallen off, was found guilty and fined $10. The accused had narrowly escaped an accident, which was avoided only by S. Bying, who was driving an automobile, making a sharp turn into the curb.

The Golden Trail of '58

The early history of British Columbia contains few more thrilling or human episodes than the spectacular Cariboo Gold Rush of 1858. Over a wild, mountain-torn country, these doughty British Columbia pioneers fought their way with grim tenacity of purpose to the land of fabled wealth and golden promise. The courage and fortitude of these men stands as an epic of all time, though possibly the crags and ravines of British Columbia never again will recound to the song:

"Five hundred miles to travel, where naught but mosses grow,
To cheer the weary traveller on the road to Cariboo."

Reduction in Wheat Stocks and Acreage Predicted at Rome

Delegates at World Conference State Position of Importing and Exporting Nations—No Decrease in Supplies in Present Crop Year

ROME, April 5 (CP).—The world carryover of wheat on August 1, will be 1,100,000,000 bushels—about the same as last year—but estimates for the next crop year, which starts on that date, are optimistic regarding reduction of stocks and acreage.

This information was contained in a communiqué issued tonight by the world wheat advisory commission, after a long session devoted to reports and plans for bettering the international wheat situation by lowering supplies and encouraging consumption.

INCREASE IN STOCKS
"In reviewing the prospective wheat situation," the statement declared, "the committee was impressed by the fact that the probable increase in the principal European importing countries at the beginning of August, compared to the previous year, will amount to between 100,000,000 and 120,000,000 bushels."

"Despite the very short North American harvest in 1933, the probable world carryover of wheat on August 1, 1934, will be approximately the same as that of August, 1933—about 1,100,000,000 bushels."

OUTLINE POSITION
The world wheat conference got under way today and worked away until this evening, the chief business of the opening day being receipt of statements from the principal nations on the position in connection with the London Wheat Pact of 1933.

For Canada John I. McFarland, of Winnipeg, told the thirty-five members representing fifteen nations, that:

"Following the extensive discussion concerning the necessity for a reduction in production, and the dissemination of information to farmers, regarding measures to restrict sales—coupled with unfavorable natural and economic conditions for wheat seedling—it is expected the acreage seeded in Canada this spring will be sharply reduced, as much as 15 per cent.

TAKES DEFINITE STEPS
Canada had taken definite steps to implement the London agreement, Mr. McFarland stressed. Bills had been introduced in the three Prairie Provinces providing enabling legislation for restriction of the quantity of wheat each farmer may sell, the extent of such restriction to be based upon the total of the Canadian export quota.

A parallel bill had been introduced in the Dominion Parliament authorizing establishment of a national wheat board whereby the national and three provincial governments will take control of the entire wheat business of the country, should this become necessary.

Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, speaking for the United States, reported an acreage reduction of 6 per cent for winter wheat in 1934 compared with 1931, and a 11 per cent cut in the spring wheat acreage. He estimated the probable acreage for harvest in the United States in 1934 as follows:

U.S. WHEAT ACREAGE
"Winter wheat, 35,500,000 acres; Spring wheat, 18,600,000 acres, a total of 54,100,000 acres. This is 4,200,000 acres above the 49,900,000 to which the United States has undertaken to restrict its harvest for 1934."

For Australia, F. L. McDougall reported "low prices are causing farmers to hold back wheat from the market." He added, "relatively low prices for wheat compared to the improved prices for lamb, mutton and wool appear likely to induce many farmers to shift from wheat to sheep, thus bringing about a material reduction in the areas sown for the wheat harvest of 1934."

And for Argentina, last of the "big four" wheat exporting nations, the delegates heard Dr. Thomas A. Le Breton declare, "the Argentine Government will continue to co-operate with other countries and hopes the present meeting will achieve substantial results."

His report was received with enthusiasm, for the most part because the Argentine has been enigmatic since the wheat exporting nations signed the agreement restricting exports in London, last August.

ANXIOUS TO CO-OPERATE
There remained Russia of the big exporters—potentially but not actually. Russia has not yet accepted rigid restrictions, but her delegate reported that the Soviet Union was anxious to co-operate in every way possible.

The French spokesman said that because of losses in winter seedling, present prospects indicated a 1934 harvest of about 300,000,000 bushels. "It is therefore to be hoped," he said, "that France in 1934-35 will return to her normal position as a net wheat importing country."

An increase of 100,000 acres, or 6 per cent, in the area sown to wheat for the 1934 harvest in Britain was reported by the British delegate.

GERMANY AND ITALY
Germany was said to be placing pressure on individual producers to hold down; there was a slight cut in 1934 seedling and a still greater one was expected next year. Italy said its Government had given a definite command to reduce wheat acreage.

At the outset, after John A. McMurtry, of the United States, had been appointed chairman, Andrew Cairns, Canadian secretary of the Wheat Advisory Board, explained previous attempts to raise wheat prices by reducing acreage and creating a keener demand.

WHALES FAIRLY PLENTIFUL NOW

Captain of Fisheries Patrol Reports Seeing Sperm and Finbacks

Returning from fisheries patrol, the D.O.S. Malaspina, Captain A. M. Henderson, is at present in Esquimalt Harbor, where she will remain until Tuesday next, when the patrol of the halibut grounds between Washington and the Alaska boundary will be resumed.

Captain Henderson stated yesterday that the limit of halibut allowed in this district, known as No. 2, totals 20,000,000 pounds. At present there are 265 United States boats, fifty boats from Prince Rupert, and twenty from Vancouver engaged in fishing for halibut.

The Malaspina's captain stated the weather had been fine for the past month, and he had anchored in several splendid harbors on the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands which had not as yet been surveyed.

Whales were fairly plentiful this year, Captain Henderson stated, and he had counted fourteen sperm whales, while in Hecate Strait and off the West Coast of Vancouver Island a considerable number of finbacks had been observed.

SAANICH RELIEF MEN FORM BODY

Workers' Protective Alliance to Hold Inaugural Meeting, Sunday, at Hampton Road Park

Following the example of Esquimalt unemployed, Saanich relief men will meet, Sunday afternoon, to organize the Workers' Protective Alliance. The gathering will take the form of a mass meeting at Hampton Road Park, at 2:30 o'clock. This was decided last night, after a delegation of thirty-two relief men had waited on the Saanich Council, seeking the Government's 10 per cent increase in food allowance and $1 for each child. William B. White headed the delegation.

Sparks flew across the council chamber, as relief men sought an immediate answer to their demands. We will go into committee and discuss this thing from all sides. We can't give a decision without considering the matter carefully," stated Reeve William Crouch.

After various statements back and forth, the council subsequently decided against the increase. Meanwhile, the relief men gathered outside the Municipal Hall and decided to form the alliance.

Women Going For Tour in The Far East

VANCOUVER, April 5 (CP).—Staid, century-old customs of the heart of China, known as Honan Province, will be viewed with interest by a party of six prominent Vancouver women and an English woman, who will leave Saturday on the liner Empress of Canada, on a cultural tour of the Orient.

Headed by Mrs. Edith M. Clark, well known in Vancouver, and for seventeen years a missionary in China, the party will include Mrs. Edward Lipsett, Mrs. H. E. Mellick, Miss Ethel Endacott, Mrs. G. Stephen Wood, Mrs. M. Parker, and Miss Margaret Riddle, of England, who is in the course of a world tour.

The trip will present many novel experiences to members of the party, and practically every point of interest that this section of China has to offer the tourist will be viewed by the visitors. Mrs. Clark, who speaks Chinese as fluently as her native English, will carry a complete diary of the history of the Honan Province on the trip.

Seventy-four days will be spent in tour, and sections of Japan will also be visited by the party. Two weeks will be spent in Peking, former capital of China proper and recognized as one of the most romantic cities in the Orient.

Before the party returns to Vancouver, the various modes of travel to be used by the women will include large steamers, small steamers, trains, Chinese carts, rickshaws, sedan chairs and automobiles. While at Kaifeng the party will visit Bishop White's mission and will be guests of the well-known missionary.

"The Chinese first settled in the Honan Province along the banks of the Yellow River during the time of Abraham," declared Mrs. Clark, who is recognized as an authority on China. "Ever since the time of Christ, they have lived a simple life, and even today their mode of living is little changed from that period."

This will be the first party of Vancouver people that Mrs. Clark has conducted on a tour of China, but she hopes to repeat the performance every year. She has visited China every summer since coming to Vancouver twelve years ago to enter business.

Noah was surprised to see three camels coming up the gangway. "Hey!" he shouted, "one of you will have to stay ashore."

"Not me," said the first ship of the desert, "I am the camel so many people swallow while straining at a gnat."

"I," said the second, "am the camel whose back is broken by the last straw."

"And I," said the third and last, "am the camel which shall pass through the eye of a needle sooner than a rich man shall enter the kingdom of heaven."

Noah scratched his head in perplexity. Finally, deciding that portly could ill-afford any of these and would be lost for illustrations without them, he let them all come aboard.

CONTROVERSY SETTLED NOW

Grace Line Stagger Sailings of Inter-Coastal Ships With Panama Pacific

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A controversy of long standing in the inter-coastal passenger trade was ended recently when the Panama Pacific Line and the Grace Line entered into an agreement to stagger the sailings of the first-class liners instead of sailing them within one day of each other as in the past. The Shipping Board Bureau promptly ratified the agreement.

The Panama Pacific Line has been maintaining Saturday sailings every fortnight from New York and San Francisco for several years with the California, Pennsylvania and Virginia. Under the agreement with the Grace Line, the former delayed the scheduled sailing of the California from March 31 until April 7 to avoid conflicting with the departure of the Grace Line Santa Paula on March 30. The Grace Line, on the other hand, will hold back a scheduled sailing from San Francisco for one week so as to work out its part of the new schedule with the Panama Pacific Line. Thereafter the two companies will maintain eastbound and westbound sailings a week apart.

Further details of the agreement call for the Grace Line to increase their first-class fares on the four new Santa Paulas, while the Pacific will reduce theirs, retaining only the present minimum.

WITHDRAW TRIPS

Still another important feature of the agreement is the Grace Line's plan to withdraw four of its cabin boats, which have been operating ever since the four new Santa Paulas came out, from the inter-coastal trade. It is understood that the company is considering placing the cabin boats in a new service from New York, possibly to ports in the West Indies and South America, not now covered by the Grace Line.

The new arrangement does not affect in any way the service of the Santa ships to Victoria and Seattle. They will continue to operate on the present schedule, arriving here every second Saturday morning, and departing every second Monday evening for the South.

What Today Means

"ARIES"
If April 6 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:45 to 10:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 4 to 6 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

Be rather careful on this date in the way you conduct yourself with anyone you meet socially, as they may be predisposed to be super-sensitive. Refrain from being too approaching over familiarity. Be careful to minutely inspect anything purchased, so as to avoid being "stung."

If April 6 is your birthday, you have an unusually keen and analytical mind for business, and will make a success in commercial life. Be careful not to attempt to cover too much territory at one time. It might be advisable to undertake only what you feel convinced you can do thoroughly, rather than let ambition tempt you biting off more than can be carefully chewed. It might prove wise not to have too many diversified interests. Do not let the desire to make money become an obsession.

The child whose birthday is April 6 will, as it reaches its teens, show evidence of either an unusually fine mathematical or literary mind, and one that grasps details quickly. Children born on this date are very observant. They must learn not to criticize other people or their playmates. Do not let them develop a superiority complex.

The woman born on April 6 is the type that is very popular with men as well as women. Be careful your popularity does not turn your head, and make you inclined to mob some of your less-fortunate friends. Be very considerate of the feelings of men, for some, contrary to the belief of some women, can be easily hurt, and if you wound their vanity, they do not forget it readily.

The man, whose natal day is April 6, has a mental and financial instinct that qualifies him to judiciously deal in monetary affairs. Men born on this date are predisposed to let business affairs absorb their thoughts, to the exclusion of almost everything else. It might be well to devote more time and attention to your family and friends. You will find that social relaxation will prove beneficial, by lessening the strenuous strain so many business men feel these days. There is nothing more invigorating than the expressed love of family and friends, and the joy received through their intimate contact. The wise man will leave his business problems in his office when he locks the door and starts for home.

People born on April 6 are very successful in any work requiring the compilation of data, statistics, or mathematical accuracy.

CLEAN-UP WEEK NEARING CLOSE

Annual Campaign Concludes Tomorrow—Sponsors of Movement Well Satisfied With Results

Victoria's annual Clean-Up, Paint-Up Week, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and civic authorities, will close tomorrow and those in charge of the campaign are well satisfied with the manner in which the citizens generally have responded to the appeal.

The campaign has been worthwhile and many men have been given casual employment around homes in the city doing odd jobs, and it is hoped that the work started this week will be continued. During the past week merchants have made special reductions in various lines of merchandise to co-operate with the sponsors of the campaign.

HARD AT WORK
Since the beginning of the crusade, the outside departments of the civic staff have been hard at work taking care of the additional accumulation of refuse and transport. City streets now present a clean appearance, boulevards are being clipped, trees pruned and parks and playgrounds put into shape for the summer months.

For several years past, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has taken an active interest in the cleaning up of the city and the group has been ably supported by officials of the city's health and fire departments. The main object of the crusade is to encourage owners and tenants to take pride in their homes and surroundings as well as give work to men who have long been unemployed.

BIG INCREASE IN TRAVEL IS SEEN

C. E. Stockhill Says Over 6,000 Already Bought From Prairies to Coast

Since the cent-a-mile rate has been in effect, more than 6,000 persons have traveled to the coast from the prairie provinces over the Canadian railway systems, according to C. E. Stockhill, assistant to D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of C.P.R. lines, Western division.

Mr. Stockhill, who was in the city for the farewell dinner given last evening to Captain C. D. Neiroutos, on board the Ss. Princess Elaine, stated that the increased travel was a result of the new low rates, was very satisfactory, with the volume about 30 per cent in advance of the movement last year.

FALSE GODS by Gay Storrens

CHAPTER XXX
Judell demurred at first. But the terrific earnestness of Mari finally overcame his objections. So he arranged everything.

He was not hampered by lack of funds. Mari turned her fortune over to him—told him to use every penny of it, if necessary. When he had finished with the expenditure of various aims, she told him to give Etta enough to make her independent for life and to keep the rest.

"It really belongs to you," she said, "and I—I have no need for it." He looked at her with great sadness in his eyes. "I cannot take it, Mari. But I understand you—and will turn it over to charity."

"I do not care—Judell, my friend." He took her hand, held it to his heart, and turned away. Etta parted from Mari in tears, even the fact that she was going back rich to her beloved Alaraba failing to stay her grief at parting with her "missy."

Judell accompanied Mari and Kuan to the dingy quay where they were to board the battered tramp that was to take them on their long voyage. He took Kuan's hand, looked him in the eye and said not a word. Then he turned to Mari.

"May I?" he asked very gently. She gave him her lips. The long days on the high seas seemed to flit by like mere minutes. There were no questions—gold had sealed the lips of all aboard that ship.

The anchor dropped in the little harbor of Papeete just as the mantle of tropic night dropped on the islands with its characteristic suddenness, and the sultry calm of the foliage-ridden village echoed with the clatter of the chain and the hubbub aboard.

A boat was lowered and sailors helped Mari and Kuan aboard. Canoes circled about them and there was a great chattering in Polynesian.

"What do they say, Kuan?" asked Mari softly. "They have been expecting you. The Maoris said you would return when the moon was full. Look! A great silver orb was rising from the waters."

A canoe came closer and the lone occupant said something to Kuan in a very low voice.

Kuan turned to Mari. "A lookout is at the Lotti pod to tell the Maoris when you arrive."

She smiled. "It is well, Kuan. But tell him if he will sell you his canoe."

"There was a rapid bit of dialogue. He will not sell it, Mari," said Kuan. "He wants it, we may have it, and leave it on the beach. He is my friend—he has dived with me for pearls."

"I do not care to go to Papeete, Kuan."

"Nor do I." He signaled to the canoe and it drew close. The owner leaped aboard lightly and held it while Mari and Kuan boarded the frail craft.

Out of the harbor and down past the smoking reefs, Kuan sent the canoe toward the shore and shot it high on a smooth table of sand, where Mari had beached her canoe when she had come over from Maolo to meet him.

Mari looked at her. "Lovely," she said. "Too lovely. Take me to the pool, Kuan."

He gathered her into his arms as if her body had no more weight than that of a feather, and started up the trail she had followed so often. At the edge of the pool, she slipped from his arms and stood, looking at the black mountain wall, the little cataract and at the placid, mirror-like pool, her lips parted, her breast rising and falling.

"It has not changed, Kuan," she whispered. "It is the same—the same as if we had never been away—as if there had been no dark hours, you and I, have sailed over wide seas, have lived in strange countries. But the Lotti pool is the same—and we have come back to it."

She took his hand. They leaped into the pool and swam through the shadows to the little niche where Tili had stood.

"Tili is gone." Her eyes caressed Kuan's face. "He is gone... but he is still here... Tili is still here—and he knows. False gods and illusion... I know them now. I believe Roger Fairchild knew them too—at the end."

Kuan nodded and stood as if listening for sounds he knew must come from below the pool. But he could not see the canoes that had put out from Maolo.

She touched his arm and together they dropped to their knees before the niche. For a little while, Kuan's face as if she would visualize his features with her hands as well as her eyes. "Mine all mine... mine for always." Her slim arm went around his neck. "Sing for me, Kuan... Sing for me—your song."

He leaped to his feet and sang, softly at first, then loud and clear. She arose slowly, poised, stood. Then she danced... danced with a light in her eyes brighter than the stars.

Kuan ceased to sing. She sank to the rock and his arms closed about her.

"Mari, I have found here—I have found here the greatest happiness I have ever known."

She turned her radiant eyes full on him. "I have found it. The dark days are all in the past. I am ready now."

He held her closer. Moving shadows appeared on the banks of the pool. She looked up at them.

"They are here—the Maoris," she whispered. He looked at her and in his face was no fear.

"I'm not afraid either," she whispered. Her eyes studying the bright heavens. "Long ago, Kuan, you asked me if I could look at the stars and say nothing lasts forever. At I look at them now, I know the things that last forever. Tonight, I have found them."

In the pause that followed, the moving shadows came closer and Mari and Kuan were lost among them.

He spoke not a word as they accompanied the grim, silent warriors down the trail, and they were still wordless as they sat in the war canoe locked tightly in each other's arms.

The canoe grated on the silver strand, grated like a sigh, and stopped.

"We have reached Maolo," said Mari. "Come, Kuan."

"I come."

Through the night, as they walked upward hand in hand, the sweet-scented air carried a chant, a long-drawn mournful chant, and with it the beating of drums. In the sky, mingled with the moonlight, were flames of red.

"Our death song," said Mari. "The fires of the mountains are awaiting us—and Tili is waiting too."

Kuan looked at her as if he would devour her with his eyes. He did not speak—he did not need to. The clasp of his hand told her all she wanted to know.

On up to the pandanus-thatched hut of Rarahan they walked, their heads erect, their tread firm though the chant was very loud and the red flames were name.

Rarahan lay on a bed of palm leaves, his long white hair spreading over his shoulders, the skin of his face drawn tightly over his cheek bones. Yet his eyes blazed as did those fires in the night sky.

"I have come back," said Mari simply.

"Of your own free will?" asked Rarahan, his voice like the rattle of spreading over his shoulders.

"Of my own free will," she answered steadily.

"You have broken the laws of the Maoris."

"I have broken the laws, and am breaking them, I am to be given to the fires of the mountains."

"Knowing that, you leave the great world, the world which has so law of the Maoris, and come back to Maolo. Tell me why, for I, Rarahan, would know."

"You have broken the law," his words were barely audible. "Life is departing from me faster than the outflowing of the tide. But as life departs from me, I give you not to the fires and Tili—but to each other."

"With his right hand, he made a curious motion.

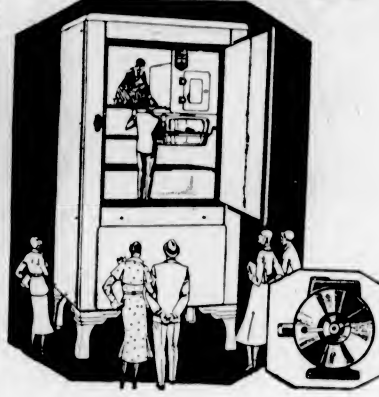

"Sing, Kuan, sing!" cried Mari. "Sing as you never have before, sing from the depths of your heart. Even life cannot part us now—we are one. Rarahan has made the wedding sign."

How IT STARTED

"HAIL FELLOW, WELL MET"

We have an inquiry for the origin of the familiar expression "a hail fellow, well met," which we use about a likeable, sociable, usually popular person, without thought of the uniqueness of the composition of the phrase.

The words are said to be derived from the old form of greeting, "Hail, fellow." The first recorded use of the form in which we use them today is found in an old work called the "Kneave of Hearts," by Rowland, dated 1612.

Impetus to the popularization of the expression was given by its use by Jonathan Swift in his now famous "My Lady's Lamentation."

"It is a terrible thing," said the prisoner, "to be known by a number instead of a name and to feel that all my life I shall be an object of suspicion among the police."

"But you will not be alone, my friend," replied the philanthropic visitor: "the same thing happens to people who own automobiles."

WINNIPEG, April 5 (CP).—In a hectic overtime battle, Toronto St. Michael's, tonight, eked out a 6-4 victory over Edmonton Athletic Club to capture the Canadian junior hockey championship and the Memorial Cup.

St. Mike's defeated the Albertans after two overtime periods to add to their first game victory of 5-0, and win the series in two straight games. The win split possession of years of competition evenly at eight victories each for East and West.

The Eastern Irish collegians with the hooked shilleaghs put on their power plays at effective moments. While the Albertans matched them stride for stride, territorial play was well divided but the Easterners had more precision and system to their play.

Little Andy Maloney forced the game into overtime as he slipped in Edmonton's fourth goal of the regular time to play. Harvey Teno in the St. Mike's case didn't have a chance to save.

THE WINNING GOAL. Art Jackson, fleet centre of the St. Mike's, scored the first overtime goal to give the Irish victory. He took a pass from Johnny Acheson and beat Freddie Layzuke with a low shot. "Pep" Kelly guaranteed victory for St. Mike's, when he caught the Edmonton goalie, Mac Colville, and raced in on Layzuke to score.

Less than a half minute remained to be played.

Mac Colville gave Edmonton the lead in the first period but Acheson quickly tied it up. After Neil Colville had scored to put Edmonton ahead again, Nick Metts took Jackson's pass and beat Layzuke.

Jacki showed St. Mike's into a 3-2 lead as the period closed.

RUGBY TOUR COSTLY TO B.C. UNION
Over $831 Dropped on Recent California-British Columbia Series

VANCOUVER, April 5 (CP).—The sum of $831.55 was dropped in the recent California-British Columbia English Rugby series, which has been disclosed, today, following a meeting of the British Columbia Rugby Union. This includes the 10 per cent Government Tax.

The deficit is figured from a statement issued by the British Columbia Union, and as a statement of the Southern University stated a desire to play up here next Christmas. Stanford is also desirous of coming up, as is the University of Southern California. It is expected, however, that the next annual invasion will be some time in March of the Spring following next season's schedule, with the British Columbia team going South at Christmas. Weather conditions would thus be better each way.

The annual general meeting of the British Columbia Union was set for April 27 at 2:30 in the afternoon.

It has been decided to hold a dance on April 25, in an effort to recoup some of the season's losses.

LOU GEHRIG EXPECTED TO RIVAL FOXX

Yankee First Baseman and Athletics' Slugger Out for Home Run Honors

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP).—Jimmy Fox's challenge to Babe Ruth for a side bet in the 1934 home run Derby may be quite all right for purposes of baseball ballyhoo, but the man the Maryland mauler will have to beat for the long-distance hitting honors is Lou Gehrig, the silent partner of the Yankee club.

It's a trifle too late now for the twenty-six-year-old first baseman of the Athletics to toss defiance at the forty-year-old Bambino. Their paths have crossed and separated, with Fox on the way up and Ruth on the way out.

Even with this handicap, however, it is the tip-off on how the youthful clubbers regard the "old man" of the Yankees when Fox, for two straight years the undisputed home run king of the majors, adopts a bristling attitude. In his prime, Ruth seldom gave any of his rivals for home run honors a thought. He simply snorted and blew 'em down.

Fox has had a substantial edge on Gehrig in home run hitting for the past two years. Jimmie collected fifty-eight, his high mark, in 1932, to Lou's thirty-four and led both leagues again last year with forty-eight to Gehrig's thirty-two. Over the stretch of the last five years, however, they are fairly close together. Fox with 206 and Gehrig with 188.

VICTORIA REGIA WILL SUSTAIN THE WEIGHT OF A MAN THE LEAVES ARE 8 FEET WIDE

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Dial and the Clock—The reason for this time equation is that while we are supposed to employ the real sun only four times a year. The real sun is unreliable as a timekeeper because its apparent motion is not uniform and because the earth's orbit is eccentric. In November and the middle of February the difference between dial and clock time is at its maximum and amounts to about sixteen minutes.

W. H. Lambert, veteran paddler, slipped his sixteen-foot canoe over the waters of the Gulf from Point Atkinson to Victoria, a distance of approximately 100 miles in the record time of twenty-three and half hours and half hours elapsed.

Mr. Lambert put in at Willow Beach at one o'clock yesterday morning having been paddling continuously since he left Point Atkinson at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday night with the exception of three hours moored to a beacon North of James Island waiting for tide.

Leaving Point Atkinson, Mr. Lambert followed a course through Forster Pass instead of Active Pass, through Trincomie Channel and Captain's Pass and into the main strait where he picked up East of James Island to Victoria.

UNEVENTFUL TRIP. "The trip across," said Mr. Lambert, "was much less eventful than that of last January, but it had its dangers, the most immediate menaces being the tendency to lose consciousness for want of sleep during the night in the main channel of steamer's."

Having no contacts at Victoria, Mr. Lambert was forced to spend several hours on the Willows Beach because of fatigue, but he was able to paddle with the coming of daylight, to the inner harbor where he parked his canoe on the airport float.

Mr. Lambert, in all his long distance trips, uses a sixteen-foot canoe, with a twenty-eight-inch beam, and those who have used canoes know that only an expert can handle them in rough waters. During his January trip Lambert was forced to sit on one side and use his eight-foot paddle in the heavy breakers which he encountered most of the way across.

The canoeist is instructor in the High School of Commerce, King Edward Branch, Victoria. His hobby when free from school work is long-distance paddling.

Victoria got away to a fine start, and held 12-7 lead at the end of the first half in the dying minutes gave Vancouver a thrilling win by a single point. The second match will take place here in a few days.

THREE MARKERS IN LAST FRAME GIVE CHICAGO 4 TO 1 WIN

Black Hawks Take Stranglehold in Stanley Cup Series With Detroit—14,000 Spectators See Wings Go Down to Second Defeat—Coulter Plays Brilliantly for Winners

OLYMPIA, DETROIT, April 5 (CP).—Chicago Black Hawks took a commanding lead in the Stanley Cup series today with a third-period assault that netted three goals and gave Tommy Gorman's title-bound machine a 4-1 victory over Detroit Red Wings, National Hockey League champions. It was the second straight win on Detroit ice for the Hawks.

A disappointed crowd of more than 14,000, jubilant when the Wings staged a gallant second-period rally to tie the score, watched the Hawks stomp young Wilf Cude in the Detroit nets in the third period and place three shots past him. The Wings were beaten soundly by the bearded rangers.

With two wins to their credit, the Hawks return home for the third and fourth games heavy favorites to finish the series with a victory Sunday night. If a fourth game is necessary it will be played next Tuesday, and if the Wings capture both games in Chicago the deciding fixture will be played here.

Only the memory of the upsetting Red Wing performances in the National Hockey League finals against Toronto Maple Leafs left Detroit fans with hopes that something might yet be done. In the Wings series, Detroit scored two straight victories on Toronto ice, then returned home and lost two before winning the deciding game.

COULTER IS HERO. Art Coulter, husky sophomore defenseman of the Hawks, emerged as a hero of the second game with a brilliant goal and a bank-up performance on the rear guard beside Lionel Conacher. Coulter scored the only goal of the first period and made victory certain for the Hawks with the third Chicago tally early in the final stanza.

The Hawks had to fight twenty-one minutes and ten seconds over to win the first game Tuesday night. There was a little less Red Wing resistance tonight. Jack Adams' starry brigade battled from behind all day, striving to overtake the Hawks, but they were out of the game before they could appear as fresh. They made a good job of it for two periods.

Particularly in the first session, the Wings held a margin. Conacher, star center, and Larry Aurie, star left wing, were the only two players to score in the first game. They kept goalie Cude in the box without once beating him.

Welland and Donny MacFadden, of the Hawks, were both in the penalty box when Lola Couture burst through the Wing defenses with the puck. He fell as he was about to shoot, but managed to lift the rubber over Cude and into the net. Detroit evened the count midway in the second period.

SCORES ON REBOUND. The game Welland, playing with a fractured nose, an injury received in the first game, supplied Lewis with a scoring chance. The center star banged a short-range shot against the rebound into the cage. The crowd cheered madly for the light weight forward line.

But when the all-around power of this string could not cope with Chicago's late rush, Doc Roman made the score 2-1 for the Hawks after less than two minutes of play in the third stanza on Paul Thompson's pass. This pair engineered Tuesday night's winning goal in overtime.

Thompson on the scoring end, then Coulter lashed in his goal on a pass from Johnny Gottselig. While the Wings stormed the Chicago end of the rink in a vain bid to get back some of the lost ground, Gottselig flashed down alone to lead the fourth time. Cude out-guessed him the first time Johnny went right back and pulled the Detroit netman out of his cage to make sure.

Cude, twenty-three-year-old rookie, whose goaltending was the outstanding feature of the Toronto-Detroit series, turned in a great game in the Wings nets. He kicked out twenty-seven shots while Gardiner was handling twenty.

Period play-for-play follows: The Wings, with Welland, Aurie and Lewis on the ice, started fast. Both teams, unable to pass the blue line, drove long shots at Cude and Gardiner. Goodfellow was sent to the box for charging MacFadden.

Students Take 2-0 Victory in Exhibition Soccer—J. O'Neil and Thorburn Score

VICTORIA High School soccer team yesterday defeated Hillside Rovers, 2-0, in a close match at the Royal Athletic Park. In the first half, Victoria High opened the scoring when Thorburn sent a nice cross from the left wing, which was passed back by O'Neil, who, in turn, headed the ball into the net for the first count.

Play remained evenly divided throughout the rest of the half. With much the same style of play in the second half as in the first, Hill and Rovers battled hard, with neither team being able to score. But in the dying moments of the half, McMillan centered nicely from the right wing to have his pass headed into the goal by Thorburn. Percy Strimling refereed.

The teams were: Victoria High School—Robinson, Leason, Dunaway, Hess, Embrey, Tregella, R. O'Neil, Thorburn, Saunders, J. O'Neil and R. McMillan.

Hillside Rovers—O'Connor, Murphy, Knapp, Holmes, Puras, Sage, Harris, A. Carr, Bernwell, S. Carr and Casey.

Marriage for Its Own Sake—Repentant Jilted Must Pocket Pride

Dear Miss Vane,—I have known a boy for over three years and during a year of that time we were engaged to be married. Then I got tired of him, treated him badly and sent him away. Now after six months of being without him, I have discovered how much he means to me. I want him back. I do not want him to think I am running after him as I have not phoned or written him. I have not seen him since the day we parted. Certainly I have found out that absence does make the heart grow fonder. But what am I going to do about it? I am rather proud and afraid of appearing to curry favor with anyone—HEART-ACHE.

This is certainly an occasion on which you can afford to dispense with that pride of which you speak so highly. Either you make the first move toward a reconciliation and make a mighty generous one—or your life's romance is ruined.

When a girl tells me that she is too proud to admit to a man she loves that she wants him, she has usually told myself that she hasn't got around to understanding love yet. For when the heart sends out an urgent appeal for one man, pride and vanity and self-esteem go down to defeat.

No man is a mind reader, especially when he's dealing with the lady he loves. And when a girl has been spurned and given his dismissal his usual course of action is to get as far away as possible from his cruel charmer and everything that reminds him of her. How can he guess that her attitude has changed unless she notifies him of the alterations? Poor thing, he's probably using all the methods known to jilted manhood to forget the whole painful romance.

If you're serious about that love business, Heart-Ache, prove it by pocketing your pride, forgetting your erstwhile sweetheart and going straight to your erstwhile sweetheart with glad tidings that he's back on your list for keeps.

And by the way, make quite sure that your feeling about the boy has a permanent quality. Nothing would be more cruel than to rescue a lovelorn swain from the depths of despair, only to throw him back again, once the mood for reconciliation has passed.

BLONDIE—You should train your girl friend better. No pal is of much use if she flatly refuses to let her chum into her good times. I shouldn't call your little companion much of a friend if she won't lend you a hand and give you a break with some of her dates.

Treat her to a little icy silence for a while and see whether that doesn't help to remind her that selfishness doesn't pay.

They were sitting round the fire, swapping lies.

"When I was in Montana," said one of them, "I saw a mountain lion come right up to the camp one day. It was a fierce beast, but with great presence of mind. I threw a bucket of water in its face and it slunk away."

"Boys," said a man sitting in a corner, "I can vouch for the truth of that story. A few minutes after that happened, I was coming down the side of the hill. I met this lion and, as in my habit, stopped to stroke its whiskers. Boys, those whiskers were wet!"

Finals of Dominion Drama Competition Are Being Arranged

Festival to Be Held at Ottawa in Last Week of Month—Teams and Groups From Seven Provinces to Compete

OTTAWA, April 5 (CP).—During the final week of this month, the cream of Canadian amateur dramatic talent will gather in Ottawa for the Dominion Drama Festival. Winning teams or groups in regional contests held during the winter months, to the number of twenty-two, will compete in the Little Theatre for the Bessborough Trophy, emblematic of Dominion amateur dramatic supremacy.

It will be the second Dominion drama festival since the Governor-General, in October, 1932, launched the idea. In addition to the Bessborough Trophy, four prizes are available to winning contestants. Regional drama festivals are over. The stage is now cleared for a competition which will focus the eyes of the Dominion and determine the dramatic group to wear the crown of victory this year. Last year's winners, the "Man Born to Be Hanged," carried off the prize. This year the "Man Born to Be Hanged" Club did not survive the regional trials.

The festival this year comprises some features which were absent last. Under new regulations, the group judged the best dramatic production in either language wins the Bessborough Trophy, but will not be eligible for the other prizes. Staff Players' Club; "Faulkner's Revolver," by Juliette Nantel, which A. La Rampe, of Ottawa, will give; and "All on a Summer's Day," by Martha Allen, one of the Montreal Repertory Theatre's cast.

Finally, the committee of the Dominion Drama Festival is awarding a prize of $100 to the author of the best play written by a person domiciled in Canada presented in any regional festival. Merits of the work as a dramatic composition will determine the award of this final prize.

STAR ATHLETE OF PAST DAYS HERE

John P. Sweeney, Well-Known in Local Sport Circles Twenty-Five Years Ago, Is Visitor

John P. Sweeney, well-known local sportsman of a quarter of a century ago, who was called from Boston to Victoria on account of the death of his mother, Mrs. William Baylis, arrived in the city yesterday. At the Empress Hotel yesterday, Mr. Sweeney recalled the days when big track meets were held in Victoria.

In 1909 Mr. Sweeney held the British Columbia and Pacific Northwest mile championships, while Frank W. Baylis held the five-mile championship. Mr. Sweeney was for some time, in the early days of business, and was also known as promoter of track events and boxing and wrestling bouts in the city.

He was employed by both "The Daily Colonist" and "The Daily Times" during his residence in this city.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

NERVOUSNESS AND GOITRE BOTH CAUSE A RAPID HEART BEAT

As the outstanding symptom of thyroid trouble (goitre) is a rapid heart, it is only natural that individuals whose hearts beat above normal should get the idea that their thyroid is at fault.

In a great many cases the fast heart beat is due to nervousness and not to the thyroid gland. For instance, a nervous individual will take his own pulse by pressing the tips of his fingers against the bone at the wrist on the thumb side, or he may place his hand over his chest, about an inch below and to the right of the left nipple, and count his heart beats. As he watches his watch he finds that perhaps his heart beat thirteen times in the first ten seconds, or at the rate of seventy-eight to the minute; then fourteen times in the next ten seconds, and he perhaps beating fifteen times in the third ten seconds, or at the rate of ninety times a minute.

Now, as he has been calmly sitting in his chair during this time, the increase in the heart rate is not from exercise or work, but entirely from "nervousness."

Dr. W. H. Long, in The Journal-Lancet, reviews the histories of 334 thyroid cases, and points out the difference between thyroid and simple nervous cases. He states:

1. That in most of the cases where the thyroid gland is really causing trouble, the thyroid will be enlarged, whereas the purely nervous case will have no enlargement.

2. A nervous individual complains of his nervousness, but the thyroid patient mentions his nervousness, but is cheerful, and generally restless, over-stimulated, and often irritable.

3. There is usually loss of weight and strength when the thyroid is affected.

4. There is more heat production in the thyroid case as compared with the nervous case.

5. In half the cases with severe thyroid condition, both eyes bulge to some extent, whereas there is nothing of this kind in the nervous patient.

6. The basal metabolism rate, that is, when the rate at which the processes of the body are measured, is always higher than normal in thyroid cases, owing to the "driving force" of the extra juice from the thyroid gland. In nervous cases, in a real testing condition, the rate at which the body processes work is normal.

I believe that if nervous patients would keep these points of difference

WOULD CHANGE POLICE SYSTEM

Bishop G. E. Lloyd Believes Mounted Could Take Over All Provinces

That the administration of law and order in the Dominion of Canada would be better in the hands of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police than under the present system, was the opinion expressed by Bishop G. E. Lloyd, of Saskatchewan, who was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Victoria Rotary Club, yesterday.

Bishop Lloyd was speaking on "Reminiscences of the Northwest Rebellion of 1885," in which he took part as a member of the University Company of the Queen's Own Rifles, of Toronto, and he referred to the magnificent work of the Mounted Police in maintaining law and order among the Indians of that time. He also paid tribute to the early missionaries of the Northwest, and the things that had been accomplished before the arrival of the troops, and he referred to the fact that it costs less to pay for a missionary than it does for a general.

Not only the Indians from the mission schools joined with the rebels, the Bishop stated. They remained loyal to the Great Mother (Queen Victoria), and their loyalty was mainly due to the teachings of the missionaries who had been laboring among the tribes for many years prior to the outbreak, the Bishop related.

It was just forty-nine years ago yesterday that the University Company of the Queen's Own Rifles broke their journey from Toronto at Jackfish, on the north shore of Lake Superior, at the time the Canadian Pacific Railway was being constructed through that rugged and rocky stretch skirting the shores of Superior. The company had to march over the uncompleted sections of railway from Jackfish to the Nipigon River, which was then in flood. Twelve miles from Nipigon, at Red Rock, the company of 250 men were placed in box cars and shipped through to Winnipeg, and then on to Swift Current. From Swift Current the company had a seven-day forced march to Battleford, which was one of the main posts of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police.

Bishop Lloyd gave a vivid description of the engagements at Cuthbert Creek and its vicinity. It was on one of those engagements with the savage tribes that he received his wounds, which put him out of action for the remainder of the campaign.

Bishop Lloyd came to Canada in 1881, and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1885, the same year he took up arms in defence of the Empire. He had considerable military training before coming to Canada, and when the call to the Queen's Own came, he was selected because of his knowledge of military training.

REAL ESTATE BOARD WILL HEAR ADDRESS ON TOURIST OUTLOOK

The Victoria Real Estate Board will meet at noon, today, in Spencer's dining-room, when Frank Gholma, of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, will be the speaker. He will talk for his subject "Victoria and the Tourist." The subject is one upon which Mr. Gholma is exceptionally well informed and upon which he can give valuable information.

The real estate men of the city are very specially interested in the tourist trade with its relation to the city's business. The address should, therefore, be of more than ordinary interest to the members of the board.

The luncheon will commence at 1:30 p.m.
